In our continued efforts in creating a culturally responsive learning environment, participants will delve into the concept of class. We will specifically talk about how poverty impacts student learning.

Learn from Ralph Martire, Ex Director of Center for Tax and Budget Accountability (CTBA), how to address systemic challenges by taking a data-driven, evidence-based and best-practice approach.

CTBA is a think tank that works across ideological lines to promote social and economic justice for everyone, from the traditionally disadvantaged to the middle class.

2 hours of Professional Development Credits (CPDU)
for IEA Teachers
Light Dinner and refreshments provided
